WATCH AND BE AMAZED

NEVER TOO LATE FOR GRACE

Dana desperately hoped for the approval of her alcoholic father. Never receiving it, she became involved in some destructive practices. After years of drugs, partying, and an abortion, Dana thought she was beyond God's grace. Watch and see how a phone call changed her life.

FROM DOUBLE TO ETERNAL LIFE

Living a double life caught up to Brad. When his infidelity was exposed, it took the threat of death to make Brad wonder where he would go after he died. He then had a supernatural experience. What happened next changed everything.

THE LIFE SENTENCE

Part of a gang from childhood, Brian was sentenced to life in prison for murder. While in jail, an old man prayed over him, and it was then that Brian began to sense a change.

YOUR CHOICE FOR TRUTH IN THE MEDIA

CBN News sees the hope hidden in the darkness

Thank you for being a voice for truth and real news! Because of your shared vision and support, CBN News has become the leading multimedia voice in independent Christian journalism. Your partnership brings a new perspective to the media landscape, presenting the news through the lens of faith.

YOUR FIRST CHOICE FOR NEWS

When you make CBN your first choice for news, you connect with a team of professional journalists. You inspire Caitlin Burke as she shines the bright light of truth in The Daily Rundown podcast. You encourage Chris Mitchell as he prepares Jerusalem Dateline, reporting on the critical events happening throughout the Middle East. You enable the truth to be reported regarding Israel. You bring to light many issues regarding the Holy Land that mainstream media refuses to report.

HOPE FOR HOLLYWOOD?

Yes, there's hope for Hollywood, according to Efreem Graham, whose Studio 5 airs weekly on CBN News Channel. He cites a growing number of "glimpses of heaven" in Tinseltown. For example, CBS renewed the series God Friended Me for a second season. Efreem goes behind the scenes, reporting on Christian films like Indivisible and Breakthrough based on the lives of real people who trusted God in critical times. And Jurassic World star Chris Pratt is among many Hollywood notables who are passionate about sharing their faith.

GOD AT WORK IN TODAY'S HEADLINES

Rob Allman, CBN News director, recognizes the ground-breaking impact of independent Christian journalism. "When our team looks at the news, we find God at work. In a thousand small, seemingly insignificant ways, we trace

His fingerprints in stories behind the headlines. We see Him influencing our lawmakers and leaders." You will also see news stories on harsh realities treated fairly and with sensitivity. It's a team effort, and our partners make all the difference. Allman says, "Together, we are offering something other news organizations can't: a faith-based perspective that looks at our world and sees the hope hidden in the darkness."

Thank you for giving Christian values a powerful voice in the media so future generations can continue to enjoy the blessings of religious freedom and free speech!

Shocking the World With Love

by LORIE HARTSHORN
Co-Host, The 700 Club Canada

Maybe you've heard the phrase, "the church should be like a family." For most, the thought of being close with people that you're not related to, or even chose to be friends with, is unnatural. But that's the point! It's not supposed to be natural—it's supernatural! Jesus set the expectation and it wasn't a suggestion but rather a command.

"A new command I give you: Love one another. As I have loved you, so you must love one another. By this everyone will know that you are my disciples, if you love one another" (John 13:34-45).

It's very clear that the Church is to be known for its love. Jesus tells us that our love for one another is the very thing that will attract the world. Can you name a church in Canada known for supernatural love? Unfortunately, it can be hard to find this kind of community. I'm not talking about a nice, kind church. But rather the kind of love that Jesus showed us. "As I have loved you, so you must love one another."

Our Lord gave up His very life for us and tells us to love one another in the same way. This kind of love is sacrificial and selfless. No sacrifice was too great. When was the last time you or I loved people like that?

So ask yourself, who does God want you to love? Who could you spend more time with? Who could you financially help? Who could you help carry a burden? We've experienced the greatest love in the universe. Let's shock the world with how we love one another.

Scripture is taken from the NIV.

Thank-Full

by BRIAN WARREN

Co-Host, The 700 Club Canada

Colossians 1:12 says, "Giving thanks to the Father who has qualified us to be partakers of the inheritance of the saints in light." What a gift! We did not earn this inheritance, but God Himself qualified us to be partakers (meaning "sharers" and "partners") of the saints in light. In other words, God has placed us alongside Moses, Mary, David, Elijah, Peter and Paul. Hallelujah!

Verse 13 then says, "He has [past tense] delivered us from the power of darkness and conveyed us into the kingdom of the Son of His love." The Greek word for "power" in this verse is "exousia" and means "right," "privilege" or "authority," which means Satan now has no rights or authority concerning you. Isn't that good news?

One of the central truths of almost all religions is that sin separates man from God. However, that is where the similarities of religions end because every religion differs in its belief of the means by which man is reconciled to God. God didn't wait for us to clean up our lives and show an interest in Him before giving up His Son for all mankind. He gave us His best when we were at our worst. That's amazing grace! It's also the main ingredient for a "thank-full" life lived without fear. When you know that Satan has no rights or authority concerning you, you will no longer give place to his schemes and attacks against you. And you will transition from merely celebrating Thanksgiving once a year to "thanks-living" 365 days of the year. Christ's precious blood made it all possible, and that is why I'm thankful. Go God!

Scripture is taken from the NKJV.

SHARING GOD'S LOVE THROUGH SUPERBOOK

METRO KIDS

Three of our teams reached 21 apartment complexes. We were in contact with 400 children and saw 250 kids come out to the programs each week.

Kids from all different backgrounds were taught the Ten Commandments, and how God loves them and has a great plan for their lives. The Superbook bags were an amazing way to end the summer. The kids were excited to hear how people in Toronto wanted to give them each a gift!

GOOD SHEPHERD CATHOLIC CHURCH

In Brossard, Quebec, Good Shepherd hosted their 16th Superbook movie night! Over 100 attendees enjoyed food and fellowship before meeting Gizmo and watching Superbook's "The Tower of Babel." After singing and dancing to the salvation song, each child was given treats, a DVD, and balloons to take home. Good Shepherd was honoured to have The 700 Club Canada join them for this celebration.

CHURCH OF THE HARVEST

In Laval, Quebec, Church of The Harvest hosted a Superbook event entirely in French with an English translation.

It was a great event with 139 children enjoying food, games, face painting, and an inflatable bounce castle. The children met Gizmo and watched a worship dance on stage. Superbook's "Roar" and "The Ten Commandments" were featured. During the salvation call, seven children indicated that they received Christ as their Saviour! Many were touched by the kindness and generosity of the church.

REJOICING IN HIS GRACE

“The LORD your God will bless you ... so that you surely rejoice.”

by GORDON ROBERTSON
Chief Executive Officer, CBN

Although God ordained three major feasts for His people, many Christians are only familiar with the first two: the Feast of Unleavened Bread, or Passover, and the Feast of Weeks, or Pentecost. Yet the third also has great significance. It's the Feast of Tabernacles—a special week each fall when families build temporary shelters outside their homes.

Essentially the idea is to cement in ourselves the fact that we are sojourners. While we may have houses with good roofs over our heads, the reality is that we are here temporarily. And the older I get, the more I understand just how temporary life is.

It's a yearly reminder that we are looking for a city, whose builder and maker is God (Hebrews 11:10). All of our efforts here on earth should be oriented toward that place in eternity.

God said: “You shall observe the Feast of Tabernacles seven days, when you have gathered from your threshing floor and from your winepress. And you shall rejoice in your feast, you and your son and your daughter, your male servant and your female servant and the Levite, the stranger and the fatherless and the widow, who are within your gates. ... The LORD your God will bless you in all your produce and in all the work of your hands, so that you surely rejoice” (Deuteronomy 16:13-15).

Notice that it's not just for the head of the household—and that twice God gives the command to rejoice. This is a party for everybody!

And it will be celebrated even after Jesus returns. Zechariah 14:16 says, It shall come to pass that everyone ... shall go up from year to year to worship the King, the LORD of hosts, and to keep the Feast of Tabernacles.

The Torah readings for this week are called the Intermediate Days. As Christians, we are certainly living in the Intermediate Days between Jesus' first and second coming. So how do we rejoice during this in-between time? One Torah reading includes God's promise in Exodus 33:19, “I will be gracious to whom I will be gracious, and I will have compassion on whom I will have compassion.”

So, while waiting for the prophetic fulfillment of Christ's glorious return, rejoice that the Lord has chosen you for His service—and remember that He has compassion and grace for you every day of the year. God bless you!

Scripture is quoted from the NKJV. Excerpted from a teaching at CBN Staff Chapel.

Superbook Makes Sharing the Message of Christ Easy

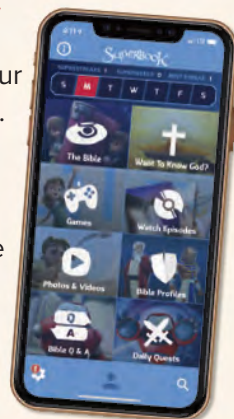

As I waited in line, a toddler operating a smartphone noticed me. His father smiled. “I see your son is already an expert with that.” Amused by his little one, the father nodded in agreement.

I wondered what content on the screen fascinated this child. So I showed him Superbook's Jesus icon from my device. “It's a free app with animated stories from the Bible,” I explained.

The father immediately downloaded the Superbook Kids Bible App and showed it to his little boy. In a matter of minutes, I had shared the message of Christ—and it was easy! —Paula S.
