I Believe in Jesus

by BILL MARKHAM

Host, The 700 Club Canada

I believe in Jesus because I have come to the awareness that His way, the way of Love, is the only thing that can really change the world. It was in the way He saw this world. He saw past the brokenness of our existence and rather than allow it in, He transformed it by bringing hope everywhere He went.

I believe in Jesus because I see what love really looks like in His death and resurrection. Even in the final agonizing moments of His death He did not consider Himself but looked to the needs His mother, His best friends, the other criminals being crucified that day, and even His enemies.

It is in this great demonstration that I realized my need to die to my own selfish desires. I had to put to death the attitudes, habits and actions that were destroying me. And it was in identifying with Him in His death that I too was resurrected into a life of freedom and hope. Free from believing the lies, the temporary desires, and the limitations that I had been shackled with.

I believe in Jesus because when I was stuck in a rut, consumed by my own shortcomings, He showed me the way out. His way was to believe that Love always wins. That it was the choice to love God and others as He taught me how to love myself.

Jesus said He is the Way, the Truth, and the Life... and I believe Him!

AN END TO FOOD ALLERGIES?

Unique treatment can provide relief from worry

A food allergy can be life-threatening to a child and a constant source of anxiety for parents, who know firsthand how even a small exposure can threaten the health of their child.

Thankfully, researcher and physician Dr. Kari Nadeau has found a unique treatment that can give children and their parents relief from the constant worry. Her approach is detailed in her book, The End of Food Allergy: The First Program To Prevent and Reverse a 21st Century Epidemic.

The treatment is a strategy called immunotherapy, which is the controlled gradual reintroduction of the allergen to the body. The method must be well controlled and done under the care of a knowledgeable doctor, because eating the same food to which they're allergic can result in a dangerous reaction. The process takes time, as the amount of the allergen consumed is slowly increased by the doctor. Eventually, the person should become desensitized and able to eat more of that food item without having a reaction.

Sloan Barnett, co-author of the book with Dr. Nadeau, has two children who went through this program. "They enrolled my two children in clinical trials," she says, "one through Stanford, one through Harvard, where they underwent oral immunotherapy," a process that is described in the book.

Her children, now grown, are still careful about what they eat because of their history with food, but they no longer worry about a severe allergic reaction.

Brings a Message of Truth to the World

During the early days of the pandemic, more people began turning to CBN News for its unique and reliable perspective. “When it started out, there were so many people looking for hope,” says News Director Rob Allman. “They were looking for how prayer could make a difference and looking for what they considered truth in terms of reporting, not being either over the top or downplaying it but really delivering what they really felt the truth was.”

Providing trustworthy news that does not relegate God to the sidelines is the purpose of CBN News, and it is reaching more people than ever with the 24-hour news channel.

“I believe the news channel has allowed us to focus on content that our audience really has been asking for,” says Allman. “You can watch the live news channel on the CBN News app and under options you can see all of our programs, such as Newswatch, Faith Nation, Jerusalem Dateline, and others.”

A DIFFERENT KIND OF JOURNALISM

“When I think about this new form of journalism, one thing I’ve done is walk into situations with my cameraman and think, ‘Who am I supposed to talk to? What am I supposed to do here with this story?’ And I say, ‘Lord, lead me to the people you want me to talk to.’ And every single time I’ve ever prayed that prayer, God just highlights somebody to me and then they usually highlight somebody else and then another person gets highlighted and the stories happened by divine appointments,” says CBN News Senior Correspondent Paul Strand.

NEWS THAT INTERESTS YOU

The role of prayer that Strand is describing is not just important in gathering the news, it permeates everything CBN News does.

Craig is a regular user of the CBN News app. He says he's grateful for the focus on prayer. "This app is now my go-to for reliable news media," he says. "I love that not only is it from a Christian perspective, but that I am constantly reminded and encouraged to pray for every article. When I am reading my news from any other source, it is too easy to forget to do this."

"While a lot of people don't like the internet and social media, I do believe that we tried to follow what Pat did with CBN," says Allman, "which was to take back the airwaves or in this case the digital medium and use it for what God would have it be used for."

The Great Passover Gift

by LORIE HARTSHORN
Host, The 700 Club Canada

As winter slowly comes to an end, we anticipate the return of the birds singing and the sprouting of new plant life. It's no wonder that some of the most sacred holy days are found in the months that bring us out of winter and into spring. Passover will take place this month. It reminds us of the freedom given to the nation of Israel. Freedom from death and slavery. It is also a shadow of what was to come, the Last Supper, the crucifixion, and the death of our Lord Jesus. A blood sacrifice would be given once and for all to give everyone who believes, freedom from the curse of sin and death.

In fact, the law requires that nearly everything be cleansed with blood, and without the shedding of blood there is no forgiveness (Hebrews 9:22).

Jesus, the perfect Lamb of God, shed His blood for us so that we could experience forgiveness of our sins. As we prepare for Passover this month let's be reminded of the great gift of our Lord Jesus in being our Passover Lamb—the one who loves us.

It was just before the Passover Festival. Jesus knew that the hour had come for him to leave this world and go to the Father. Having loved his own who were in the world, he loved them to the end (John 13:1).

Jesus shows His great love for us, as the spotless lamb, who sheds his blood to save the lives of anyone who would believe in Him. This month, reflect on all that Christ has done for you and join us in praying for a great awakening in Canada. Jesus, save Canada! Amen.

Scripture is quoted from the NIV.

HAVING THE MIND OF CHRIST

The Life-Transforming Power of Setting Our Minds on Jesus

by GORDON ROBERTSON
President and CEO, CBN

there are no consequences to our behaviour on earth, how would you live? This is why their thoughts are foolish.

As Christians, we came out of this thought pattern—yet unfortunately it can still stay with us. The two kingdoms are at war in our own minds. We are reminded in 1 Timothy 6:12, Fight the good fight for the true faith. Hold tightly to the eternal life to which God has called you.

Jesus fulfilled every part of the law so we don't have to; yet what should we do with our liberty? What are our aspirations? How do we orient ourselves?

Together, let's choose to fix our eyes on Jesus, think about what He has commanded us to do, and focus on drawing the world unto Him. God bless you!

As believers, we have a choice every single day. We can choose between the thoughts of this world or the thoughts of the world to come.

That's why Paul writes, With the Lord's authority I say this: Live no longer as the Gentiles do, for they are hopelessly confused (Ephesians 4:17).

Instead, Paul says in 1 Corinthians 2:16, But we understand these things, for we have the mind of Christ.

Jesus was sometimes vexed by what His disciples were thinking and what the Pharisees were saying. Those two groups seemed to upset Him the most. He didn't seem to be upset with the tax collectors, the prostitutes, the lepers, or the Romans. And in Matthew 8:10, Jesus tells a Roman centurion, "I haven't seen faith like this in all Israel!"

So should we be upset when people who don't know God do strange things? They can't possibly think the way Christians think because they don't know Jesus or have the mind of Christ. If you thought there was no heaven and
